

Universal Fibers® Sustainability Mission Statement

We are people.

We are connected with all things in the cycle of life.

We believe true sustainability means more than resource conservation. Our core principles of safety and security guide us to value lives. Those of our Associates, and those of our communities in which we live and serve. Locally, regionally, globally.

Our commitment to sustainability is unwavering and steadfast. We will better what we find and use less to produce more. We embrace our role as environmental stewards and measure success with clear transparency, independent validation, and service to humanity.
